MAY NOT GO TO FORT SILL

Wilfred H. White Writes to This Paper About Camp Clark — The Boys Eat A Lot.

In a letter to The Democrat-Forum, Wilfred H. White, who is with the Fourth Regiment at Camp Clark, Nevada, writes that the Fourth may not go to Fort Sill, Okla., as originally planned. He says:

"I heard a lot I can't write. You see I am Lieutenant Colonel Morgan's orderly. We got our last shot in the arm yesterday and I sure am glad that it is over, but we still have a few more coming. It takes a lot to feed this bunch, 12,000 loaves of bread, six tons of fresh beef, a car load of potatoes, 300 gallons of molasses and 120,000 gallons of water.

"If we do go to Fort Sill I get to drive through in the car. It is a four-day trip."

FINANCIAL SUCCESS

PRESIDENT MASON ESTIMATES RECEIPTS AT $10,000.

PLANS FAIR NEXT YEAR

It Will Be For Four Days the First Week in September—Average Daily Attendance 6,000, Mason Thinks.

A county fair will be given next year the first week of September and will be held four days instead of six, announced A. O. Mason, president of the fair association today. It will commence on Tuesday and the closing day will be Friday. Mr. Mason intends to build a new floral hall on the grounds and the work will start next summer. The old floral hall will be used as a show barn.

Mr. Mason said today that the fair last week was a financial success. He estimated that the average daily attendance for the four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was 6,000. The total receipts were figured to be about $10,000. The expenses have not as yet been figured up but Mr. Mason thinks they will run a little over $9,000. His figures as given out today were $2,660 paid out for premiums as entered in the catalogue for floral hall exhibits, $3,200 for races, $2,100 for free attractions, $1,200 for advertising, bills and thirty gatemen and other helpers.

J. F. Cole of Pattonsburg intends to keep the Ghost and three other horses here during the year for training. J. F. Riley of Lawrence, Kan., will also keep his horses here the coming year. Col. R. G. Mundy will remain here with his horses.

Only a fair crowd witnessed the afternoon events at the fair Saturday. The crowd for the most part was made up of farmers who had been too busy to attend during the week and were making their week-end trip to town. The program put on by the fair association was exceptionally good, considering the size of the audience present.

William Hanecy who was presiding judge of the races and stock shows gave universal satisfaction. He conducted the scheduled program honestly and squarely and made many friends during the week.

The Saturday afternoon races at the fair ended as follows:

SPECIAL PACE.

The Ghost, J. F. Cole, 1; R. W. E., R. K. Gleed, 2; Riley Boy, Dr. Holkenbrink, 3; Bullet, W. W. White, 4. Time, 1:21¾, 1:24½.

SEVEN EIGHTHS MILE DERBY.

Blue Jay, Dr. J. W. Orenduff, 1; Laura James, Pete Sells, 2; Bert L., L. Burlingame, 3. Time, 1:31½.

½ MILE DASH FOR NON-WINNERS.

Helen James, Pete Sells, 1; Night Boy, C. C. Richards, 2; Bob Logan, W. T. McHaney, 3. Time, 57¼.

A saddle class was put on during the afternoon as an added attraction. The names of the horses and their owners were as follows: Bugle Boy, Dr. E. H. Davis, St. Joseph; Queen Rex, Cecil Edwards, Rea, Mo.; Rex Donovan, Cecil Edwards, Rea, Mo.

The real feature of the afternoon's events was the pony show. There were wour entries in the race, Claude Allen, Jack Connor, Glen Allen and John Davis. The race was very close at the finish, Jack Connor nosing out Glen Allen at the tape. Jack Connor is the son of Bob Connor, the well known Maitland driver.

Villa sent commissioners to General Murgueia, it was learned today, proposing to surrender and saying he was tired of fighting. It now seems useless for Morgueia communicated with Carranza who replied under no circumstances would he treat with Villa.

FIGHTING ON ALL 5 FRONTS

Activity Centered Around Verdun on Western Front—French Turn Back German Attack.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Sept. 10.—Violent fighting is reported today from all the five great battle zones in Europe. On the Western front the activity centered around Verdun where the Germans all day Sunday and far into the night slung furious masses against the newly won positions on the east of the river.

At isolated points the French positions were penetrated, but before the Germans could consolidate the gains, they were rolled back leaving great mounds of dead and dying men.

Because of storms and thick fog the Italian front failed to check the terrific fighting northeast and southeast of Horizia. The Germans are preparing for a vigorous effort along the gulf at Riga. The Austro-German artillery along the Rumanian front increased the cannonading. The Russian-French acting union is making strong thrusts at the Macedonian front.

British Strengthening Positions.

London, Sept. 10.—Under the protection of their artillery fire, the British are consolidating and strengthening the new positions won from the Germans southeast of Hargicourt, according to the report today.

PREMIER KERENSKY AND GEN. KORNILOFF FALL OUT.

Military Law Established at Petrograd —German Troops Menace the Slav Capitol Now.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Petrograd, Sept. 10.—The bleeding Russians torn by revolution and trembling under the blows of Germany's powerful military machine faced fresh disasters today. Dissensions have broken out between Kerensky and Korniloff and the latter has been dismissed from his post as commander-in-chief of the Russian armies.

Military law has been established in the environs of Petrograd. Great excitement prevails and the civilians are leaving in great numbers. The premier has issued a proclamation charging Korniloff with planning to seize the government and making himself dictator. General Kelembosky has been appointed to succeed Korniloff as commander-in-chief.

Coming at this time when the Germans are menacing the capitol, the present crisis takes greater hue than any yet faced by the republic since the revolution.

SWEDEN MAY DELAY

PROBABLY WILL MAKE GENERAL DENIAL OF CHARGE.

EVIDENCE IS "DAMNING"

Scandinavian Government Will Compel United States to Prove Every Accusation.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Sweden is expected to play for time in answering the grave accusations brought against her by the state department is the intimations that come here already from that government. The Scandinavian nation will seek to throw the burden of proof on the United States by a general denial. Officials here say that the administration will brook no dilatory tactics. Messages themselves are of such a damning nature, it was pointed out that it is likely that the ordinary apology will be of no avail.

London, Sept. 10.—The Washington state department's revelations of a Swedish diplomat in Argentine acting as an intermediary for transferring German messages to Berlin has created one of the greatest international sensations of the war. The development itself is not, however, a great surprise, the chief surprise being that the American officials were able to obtain the messages, as they did the Zimmerman note of last winter regarding the German overtures to Mexico.

The Swedish government, with the monarchy, the aristocracy and the army officers, has been rated strongly pro-German throughout the war, and Queen Victoria in several public utterances has proclaimed her German sentiments as strongly as any German could. The Swedish people, on the other hand, are reported as leaning strongly against Germany, particularly since the unrestricted submarine warfare began. Sweden's leaning toward Germany was regarded as a natural compliment to her old fear of the Russian autocracy, but the Entente nations held the hope that when the cause for that distrust was removed by the revolution, Swedish feeling might undergo a radical change.

Smashing Spy System.

The suspicion has been current in England throughout the war that Germany was obtaining much information of military movements which could not be secured through ordinary spies, the spy industry in fact having been pretty well stamped out here for more than a year past, after several executions in the Tower of London. The belief that Lord Kitchener's death was the result of information transmitted to Germany of his departure on the Hampshire, has been persistent with many, and it has at least the foundation that his plans were discussed at dinner tables in high society before he started.

KNOX WRITES FROM CAMP

Maryville Boy at Camp Funston, Kan., Likes the Life — Says Meals Are Good.

Leo B. Knox, who was a member of the first contingent that left last Thursday from this county to the army at Camp Funston, Kan., has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Knox of this city about his experience.

His letter is as follows:

"We arrived here on the morning of Sept. 6, at 7:30 a. m. We could not get any sleepers out of Kansas City. The train was certainly crowded. I got about three hours of sleep but was feeling fine that day, which seemed about forty eight hours long. We took a shower bath and were examined from 9 to 11 a. m. Believe me, it was certainly some examination.

"We have a sergeant that asked us every morning how we feel. I never felt better in my life than I do now.

"This camp is sure some camp. It covers about 2,300 acres of land. We sleep in a barrack about the same shape of a barn, but it is pretty well finished on the inside.

"They furnished us our shoes, two pairs of socks, two pairs of underwear, one hat. I think we will get uniforms about Wednesday.

"We certainly have some real meals, as much as any common man has, roast beef, boiled beef, hash, corn beef, and all kinds of fried meat. Potatoes, macaroni with cheese, brown gravy, onions, rice pudding, peaches, and apricots, corn bread, white bread, cold tea, coffee and water.

"I will send my suit and underclothes about the first of the next week, but will not send my suit case. If papa sees any of the 45 per cent that comes in two weeks tell them not to bring any underwear, just two shirts, four towels and the rest of the equipment such as soap, comb, brush, talcum powder, tooth brush.

EMPLOY MORE TEACHERS

Miss Helen Burris and Ernest Daniels Selected for Vocational Work In the School.

At a meeting of the board of education on Saturday evening two more teachers were added to the regular force in the public schools.

The board has long felt the need of putting in some vocational work in the upper grades at the Washington school, so they have now made it possible to give the sewing to the girls of the sixth and seventh grades, and cooking to the girls of the eighth grade All boys will be given manual training in the same grades.

Miss Helen Burris was elected to the position of assistant in Domestic Science. Her special training in this field was had at the Maryville Normal school.

Ernest Daniels who graduated at the Maryville High school in January 1917, will be the assistant in Manual Training. While in the high school Mr. Daniels led his classes in this work. It is his intention to continue the study of work in this department.

As fast as finances allow the Maryville schools are being improved in courses offered to our young people. No expense is being spared to provide the very best teaching corps possible. The fact that teachers salaries for 1917-18 are raised more than $2,200 above those of 1916-17 is evidence of this. Many minor changes and improvements are made from time to time in the interest of the general welfare of our schools.

Both the teachers and pupils are always glad to have friends and patrons visit them while they are actually at work. Go down and see them.

Miss Esther Reed is seriously ill at her home near Quitman.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own house work and have an eight pound baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads." — Mrs. NELLIE FISHBACK, 1521 Christy Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary.

If you have any symptom about which you would like to know, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free.

FEDS DEFEAT MAITLAND

A Fast Game Played Sunday When Maryville Won by a Score of 5 to 4—Game Next Sunday.

Maitland base ball championship hopes were sent glimmering at the local park yesterday when Scott's Federals scored them out in a 5 to 4 game. A fair crowd witnessed the contest which was about the best game played here this season. Anderson, on the mound for Maitland, held the Fed hitters for six innings, but the appearance of Summa and Walker in the line-up put some hitting ginger into the team and three hits in the seventh and the eighth gave the Maryvillians five runs, which put them two to the good. Maitland having scored one run in each fourth fifth and sixth innings. A rally in the ninth fell a tally short of tying the game.

Still started the game for Maryville and was relieved in the sixth by Monk, Burlington Junction star slabman, who will finish this season for the Feds.

The Federal management promises a strong line-up for next Sunday when they will meet the fast Chases of St. Joseph, who won the championship of that city when they defeated St. Mary's Saturday and Sunday. A game a week later will be with the famous Brandeis of Omaha, who have been the undisputed champions of Nebraska for the past two years. In the Brandeis line-up will be seen Eddie Roben, who will be remembered by the fans of Maryville as the fastest short field player ever seen here and who was a member of the old Comet team before the Mink league base ball. The dope is to the effect that Roben is still putting up a fast brand of base ball in the same position that he played here.

The following is the score of Sunday's game:

SPENDS $12,000,000

The U. S. Disburses Huge Sum in Six Months in Europe — Aid Our Men First.

Washington, Sept. 10. — Approximately $12,000,000 for war relief work in Europe will have been expended by the American Red Cross in the first six months since the United States has been at war with Germany, according to a work addressed to "the American people," Saturday by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross war council, in which full details are given of the activities of the organization in various nations abroad chief of which is France.

More than $10,000,000 of this sum appropriated up to and including Aug. 31, by the war council, since its appointment May 1 last, is for use in France. Other countries to receive relief are Russia, Rumenia, Italy, Serbia, England, and Armenia, a grand total amounting to $12,339,681, the greater part of which will be used by Nov. 1, although some of the appropriations cover a year. Most of the persons in charge of the Red Cross work in France are giving their time and paying their own expenses. A special fund of $100,000 has been privately contributed to meet the expenses of members of the commission to France unable to pay their own way.

WHEN TO EXPECT 1ST FROST

Gardeners May Learn Probable Date of Killing Temperatures from Weather Bureau Records.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Truckers and gardeners planning for late crops should be aided in determining their "best bets" on the first frost by referring to this historical summary of frost occurrences in various sections, just issued by the United States Weather Bureau:

Killing frost has never occurred earlier than September 10 south of the extreme southwestern portion of South Dakota, extreme southern Minnesota central Wisconsin, and the interior northern portion of lower Michigan. It has never occurred earlier than October 1 south of the extreme north portions of Oklahoma and Arkansas, southern Tennessee, and the mountain districts of North Carolina and Virginia It has never occurred earlier than October 20 to the southward of the extreme northeastern portion of Texas, northern Louisiana, the central portions of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and eastern North Carolina.

The chances are even that killing frost will not occur before September 15 in most of North Dakota, Montana and the extreme northern portion of Minnesota. By the first few days in October killing frost occurs on the average one year in two as far south as the southern portion of Nebraska, southern and eastern Iowa, southern Wisconsin, most of the interior portion of lower Michigan, and throughout the greater part of New England. By October 15 it may be expected in at least half the years as far south as the central portions of Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, throughout eastern Kentucky and the mountainous sections of the Virginias.

There is one chance in two that killing frost will not occur earlier than November 1 at the latitude of central Oklahoma, central Arkansas, and the northern portions of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, and eastern North Carolina.

The chances are even that it will occur by November 15 a little south of the central portions of Texas and Louisiana, and well toward the southern portions of Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia. This does not mean that killing frost will occur in the localities and on the dates specified every other year, but that in the long run it occurs, as indicated, in half the years.

There prevails in some sections a popular belief that in the season when frost may be expected its occurrence is largely influenced by the phase of the moon, or other periodical phenomena. Careful tabulation of frost data and its comparison with moon phases fails to disclose any such relation. All persons interested are therefore cautioned to watch, not the moon, but the forecasts issued by the Weather Bureau.

HOOSIER'S COUNCIL OF KITCHEN SCIENTISTS

Now at Your Service in The Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets

This is to tell the women of Nodaway County how the Hoosier Manufacturing Co. have engaged this staff of talented women to work in any kitchen every day in the week. Not in person, of course—but through the Hoosier Cabinet. They assist in discovering efficient labor "short-cuts" and time-savers. Some are built into Hoosier Cabinets. Others come in the form of practical suggestions. All of this can be yours for the regular price of the Hoosier.

HOOSIER'S Council of Kitchen Scientists

Mrs. Christine Frederick, noted Household Efficiency authority, head of Applecroft Experiment Station, New York.

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal of Miss Farmer's School of Cookery, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Alice R. Dresser, Consultant of Household Administration, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Janet M. Hill, Principal of the Summer School of Cookery, New Hampshire; Editor and Author.

Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, Household Consultant, Wisconsin.

Mrs. H. M. Dunlap, Domestic Science Expert, Illinois.

A Mark of Progress

Now---more than ever---is kitchen efficiency necessary.

Not only common-sense, but health, demands short hours for housewives. Moreover, help is scarce and difficult to keep.

Today all women have a right to Hoosier conveniences.

This Cabinet brings a score of super features found through thousands of practical experiments. Not in a factory ---but in scientific kitchens. The brilliant women on the Hoosier staff transmit their discoveries to the makers. They pass on these "short-cuts" to owners of Hoosier Cabinets.

Woman's Deliverance

Our claim that there is no other cabinet on earth like the Hoosier cannot de disputed.

The services of this council of brainy women are controlled by Hoosier for kitchen cabinets.

When you get a Hoosier you secure the benefits of their combined talents.

Where long hours of toil exist, its 40 work-reducing, time-saving features enter and end the hardest part of womens work.

Your mode of life seems re-created.

Mealtime Delights

You have many more hours of leisure. When mealtime comes you sit down comfortably and restfully at work

You find new delights in cooking and baking.

Health is better--old age kept away. Evening fatigue soon disappears and fresher looks return.

Why work long hours on your feet when the Hoosier offers you instant deliverance?

Surely you owe it to your family and yourself to save your health, your time, your energy.

HOOSIER

CABINETS FIT EVERY SIZE KITCHEN

Able authorities rate the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet as the greatest household convenience in the world. Please don't class it as kitchen furniture nor merely as extra shelf-space. The Hoosier is an actual labor-saving machine, that will, by a little intelligent use, cut kitchen work in half.

This remarkable advancement in kitchen management is open to every home—the small house, the mansion, the apartment.

And more than that, the Hoosier's low prices leave no excuse why women should work without it.

The question is not, can you afford the Hoosier—but, can you now afford to slave long hours?

40 Work-Reducing Features

Hoosier's Council of Kitchen Scientists supply many Hoosier inventions. One specialist devised the Food Guide and Salad Chart.

The patented Shaker Flour Sifter sifts four times faster than most, and makes flour light and fluffy.

The revolving rack of six glass Spice Jars keep your spices ever ready for use and yet air-tight.

The ingenious Sugar Bin holds twice as much as ordinary bins.

The Porceliron Top is an added convenience. This top won't rust and is cleaned as easily as a china plate.

Any one of Hoosier's 40 labor-saving features is valuable. But assembled and handily arranged, they compose A WONDERFUL WORK MACHINE.

Scientifically Planned

Hoosier has places for 400 articles, all within arm's reach! These experts have scientifically planned them, so the most used things will be nearest at hand.

Space that is wasted in many cabinets is utilized in Hoosier. The Oversize Base of Hoosier "Beauty" has 21 per cent more room for pots and pans.

Work-space around the Sliding Table Top is wide and deep—uncluttered by clumsy partitions.

Eighteen years and thousands of dollars have been spent in perfecting this "automatic servant."

The New Hoosiers Are Here—Come

We will put the Hoosier in your kitchen for a small trial payment.

Use it to your heart's content. Then if you're not delighted, we will remove the cabinet and refund your money.

If you keep the Hoosier, pay the balance in convenient amounts. Prices range from $24.50 to $36.50, according to the design and equipment, and 10 per cent discount for cash. Call at once — See these wonderful cabinets.

THE GREAT LAKES

Romance and Tragedy of These Unsalted Inland Seas.

A VAST MARINE GRAVEYARD.

No Equal Area of Ocean Waters Has Proved So Great a Glutton For Human Life and Ships and Rich Cargoes—Mysteries of Missing Vessels.

Some day the great lakes are going to contribute a glorious share to the literature of America. Until now they have been unhonored and unsung, except in some isolated cases, where the poet or the romancer has sought his audience in vain. All of the romance of the sea is not contained in the Atlantic or the Pacific. The great lakes are rich in romance. History and legend have joined hands to weave a thrilling narrative around this enchanted country. Indian tradition clusters thick about it. Three nations struggled for dominion over the lake country—England, France and the United States. Innumerable shipwrecks have contributed their black pages to the story of the inland seas. The thrill of storm at sea, of struggle with the elements in the blackness of a Lake Superior night, of glorious victory or brave defeat, remains to be recorded fittingly.

What chronicle contains a more fascinating record than the narrative of the voyage of exploration made by Rene Cavalier de la Salle in his good ship the Griffin, the first sailing vessel to venture forth on the great lakes? In 1679 this ship, captained by the intrepid French soldier of fortune and manned by a merry crew of voyagers, with several Jesuit zealots, sailed the length of Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair and Lake Huron on a voyage of adventure and discovery. The Griffin was lost on its return voyage. La Salle, who had remained in the north country, never heard of it again. The first mystery of the great lakes had been recorded. Countless others were to follow it. For the great lakes hold their grim record of tragedies.

It is interesting to note that no similar area of any ocean, if suddenly stripped of its volume of water, would expose to human gaze a larger number of sunken ships or more valuable cargoes than lie at the bottom of these inland waters. A record kept between the years 1878 and 1898 reveals the startling fact that in that period 5,999 ships were wrecked on the great lakes, and 1,093 of these were total losses. The loss of cargo during the score of years was nearly $8,000,000.

Some of these vessels disappeared almost as mysteriously as did the Griffin in the brave old days of exploration. No wreckage floated to the shore. The great lakes hid well their secrets. Navigators of the northern lakes insist that there are portions of Lake Superior where it is impossible to find the bottom. The superstition is that some ships that have gone down at sea are held forever in this unfathomable pit beneath the waters.

Like the sailors of the salt seas, the men who navigate the inland waters are a superstitious lot. Almost every wreck that marks the history of the lakes is the inspiration of some weird, fantastic story that by frequent repetition assumes the dignity of truth in the sailor's ready mind. One such superstition that is firmly rooted in the minds of all great lakes navigators concerns the mysterious wreck of the Bannockburn.

She was a big, powerful freighter, carrying a crew of twenty-two men. She cleared Duluth on a day in the late fall. What happened to her will never be known. She went out in the morning and was last sighted the next evening. That was the end. Not one of her crew was ever found. For more than a year the chill waters of Lake Superior guarded well their secret. Then one day an oar was found floating among the driftwood of the bleak north shore. A piece of tarpaulin was wrapped securely around it, and when this was removed it was found that the word "Bannockburn" was scraped into the wood. The oar is all that remains today to tell the story of the missing freighter.

According to the queer twist given the story by the sailors of the inland seas, the Bannockburn is supposed to be the Flying Dutchman of the great lakes. Sometimes at night, when the chill north wind sweeps across the swollen bosom of Lake Superior and the stinging "ice devils" fill the air, the lookout on some lonely point calls loudly to his companion and points to where he imagines the Bannockburn, all white with ice and ghostly in the darkness, is slipping through the black mystery of the lake.

The history of the great lakes is punctuated with thrilling narratives such as this. There are brighter chapters that tell of heroic rescues made by dint of dauntless courage and superhuman effort. — George W. Stark in Outlook.

Decorated With Plates.

One of the important apartments at the palace of Fontainebleau, in France, is called the Galerie des Assiettes, for the reason that its decoration consists of vertical rows of plates set in the paneling of the walls. These plates are very valuable, are made of porcelain, and upon them are painted scenes and views of many royal residences. The plates were placed there by the order of Louis Philippe.

THE RIFLE BARREL.

Making It Perfectly Straight Is a Delicate Operation.

Following the reaming operation in rifle manufacture, which leaves the bore of the barrel smooth and polished, comes one of the most delicate and exacting operations in gunmaking, that of straightening the interior of the barrel. In straightening a barrel everything depends on the skill and experience of the operator, for, although machines have been devised to perform this difficult work, they still require skilled men to operate them, and they cannot turn out as much work as is done by hand by the old method that has been practiced for years and which can only be acquired by long experience.

The straightening block has a heavy base, on which are fixed two hardened bars of steel set a short distance apart and at an angle with one another. A north window is necessary, where a steady, unobstructed light is had, and the upper half of this window usually has a large pane of fine ground glass. Across this glass at about the middle is fixed a straightedge of wood. The operator places a barrel on a rest and looks through it at the straightedge on the window, observing the shadow cast by the edge on the polished interior of the bore.

This shadow extends about halfway down the bore, and if the latter is perfectly straight the shadow shows two straight dark lines, one on either side of the bore and slightly below its center. If, however, there is a crook in the bore the lines of the shadow diverge from a straight line and zigzag in various directions as the operator revolves the barrel by hand. This indicates that there are crooks in the barrel. To correctly observe these delicate indications requires unusually perfect sight, and to locate the point and nature of the crook is a matter of long experience and judgment.

When the operator has located a crook he lays the barrel across the bars of his straightening block with the high point of the curve uppermost and strikes it with a heavy hammer made of copper or babbit metal, and great judgment is necessary to know just how hard to strike to remove the crook. This process of observation and straightening is repeated until the two shadow lines are perfectly true for one-half of the length of the barrel and then is repeated for the other half, observations being taken from the opposite end.

Another method of straightening sometimes practiced is by placing in the muzzle of the gun a lens covered with cement, in which a circle is scratched. On looking through the barrel with a suitable light a series of rings appears in the bore, and the slightest lack of concentricity of these rings indicates a defect. This is said to be an extremely delicate test.—Scientific American.

Won by His Cool Head.

"One day," says a writer in Munsey's Magazine, "when H. P. Davidson of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., was a teller in the Astor Place bank, a crank presented a draft for $1,000 and young Davidson looked up to see a pistol pointed at him. He smiled and commenced to read the face of the draft:

"'Astor Place bank—Pay to the order of Almighty God the sum of $1,000 when presented by Charles Freeman.'

"Do you want it in dimes?" asked Davidson in a very loud voice and began to count the money. Then the bank's policeman, whose attention had been called to the situation by the teller's loud utterance, seized the half crazy man from behind. The teller's level headedness and nerve saved his life, doubtless.

How Parchment Got Its Name.

The Greeks of Pergamus are said to have first prepared parchment from the skins of the goat or sheep. They were curried, deprived of all fat, thinned uniformly by the knife, dyed or whitened and finally rubbed down with pumice stone to a smooth and even surface. Called pergamenum from the city of its origin, the new material became parchemin in archaic French and parchment in the English tongue.

Mind Reading.

COLLEGE GIRLS PARK GUIDES

Accompany Camping Parties and Talk About Nature.

Estes Park, Colo.—Women "nature guards" is the latest innovation in the administration of America's national parks. The guards are cultured college girls, whose duty it is to accompany camping parties through the great natural playgrounds and give interesting talks on the trees and flowers as well as the birds and animals of the region. Any camper may obtain the services of these girl teachers of nature lore for a nominal charge.

The first park to have such guards is the Rocky Mountain National park, of which Estes Park village is the principal gateway. Four young women already have passed the rigid federal examinations and have been appointed by Supervisor L. C. Way of the park. They have been swamped with applications for their services.

Boy of Fourteen Fights Bull.

Chardon, O.—Spain, land of toreadors, should hear of Albert Hosmer, fourteen, of Parkman. As a bullfighter Hosmer has just made a record without weapons.

A bull owned by the boy's father charged Albert as he sought to feed the animal an apple. He grasped the bell ring of the maddened animal and leaped squarely on the bull's back. Roaring and snorting the bull ran wildly around the lot. Then the animal stopped suddenly and Albert was hurled to the ground. Albert ran his fingers into the bull's nostrils and gripped tight. The bull fell to its knees. The boy let go, dashed to the fence and was on the other side before the bull charged.
